General

The AC hotline phone registered 28 calls this month of June 2016 with a total of 7 complaints. 4 complaints on corruption and corruption related offenses and 3 non corruption related offenses.

Investigative field missions continued this month with AC volunteers going out to the field following complaints received through calls and gathered from the field during flyers distribution and pasting of posters.

Two (02) new case files opened this month

A new case file on misappropriation of public funds was opened this month. The complainant, a teacher in the Bakassi locality in the Idiabato sub-division complained that the Delegate of Basic Education had embezzled money. According to him, teachers from this area were given a monthly allowance known as the Bakassi intensive allowance but with the coming of the new delegate the amount was slashed close to just above half. Investigations are ongoing.

A new case file on Bribery and Extortion was opened this month. The complainant, an MTN network subscriber complained that inhabitants of the Akonolinga locality were asked to pay some money before they could be identified. This was a service that MTN was providing for free and in case you failed to be identified, your telephone number was suspended. AC got interested in this case because the same complaints were received from seven of the ten regions in the country. AC contacted the chief of identification service at the MTN main office who informed AC that they were working with mobile police teams to arrest the culprits.

Follow-up was carried out on the Undue demand and Oppression case file opened in the month of May. The complainant was solicited 20,000 francs CFA instead of 4,000 francs for the establishment of a 'carte grise'.

Investigations

Investigations were carried out on a new case file opened this month on misappropriation of public funds. The complainant, a teacher in the Bakassi locality in the Idiabato sub-division complained that the Delegate of Basic Education had embezzled money that was meant for the payment of their bonuses. According to him, teachers from this area were given a monthly allowance of 40,000 francs for head teachers and 32,000 francs for classroom teachers that is known as the Bakassi intensive allowance for teachers. With the coming of the new Delegate of Basic Education, this amount was reduced from 40,000 to 28,000 francs for head teachers and 32,000 to 24,000 francs for classroom teachers. When questioned, the delegate said that the money has been reduced so that it can be used to fight the Boko Haram terrorist group operating in the northern regions of Cameroon. Investigations are ongoing.

Investigations were also carried out on a new case file on Bribery and Extortion opened this month. The complainant, an MTN network subscriber complained that inhabitants of the Akonolinga locality were asked to pay 200 francs each to have their numbers identified. This service was provided for free by the MTN network and in the case where you fail to identify your number, it was suspended. AC got really interested in this case when it received similar complaints from other regions in the country as well. AC contacted the chief of identification services at the MTN main office who informed AC that they were currently putting in place measures to work with mobile police units in order to arrest the culprits. A sting arrest had already been carried out in Bafia in the Centre region by MTN and some police officers in Bafia where the first complaints surfaced.

Follow-up was carried out on the Undue demand and Oppression case file opened in the month of May. The complainant was solicited 20,000 francs CFA instead of 4,000 francs for the establishment of a 'carte grise'. Even when the perpetrator was scolded by the regional delegate of transport for such illegal acts, he did not relent. He still refused to establish the 'carte grise' and sent the complainant away with threats.
