- Two(02) new complaint files opened this month
- AC hotline received 26 calls this month
- Health Corruption hotline received 12 calls this month

General

The AC hotline phone received 26 calls this month of November registering (08) eight corruption and corruption related offences as well as (06) six non-corruption complaints.

Two (02) new case files were opened this month

A new case file on corruption and extortion was opened this month. The complainant, a patient reported a medical doctor specialized in gastroenterology at the Yaounde central hospital for extortion. According to him, the culprit refused to consult him at the Yaounde central hospital and coerced him to consult only at her private clinic. After paying 72,000 francs CFA for consultation and medical tests at her private health centre Sainte Veronique, he was asked again to pay an additional 10,000 francs CFA before he could withdraw his medical test results which he did but could not get possession of his result because they claimed his results were missing. Investigations are ongoing.

Another new case on bribery and corruption was opened this month. The victim reported the finance agent treating vote holder's files in the Nwa sub-division for perpetrating acts of corruption. He complained that the financial year was getting to an end and he has not received credits to run the year because the finance agents solicit they be paid first. Investigations are ongoing.

Distribution of brochures and pasting of posters the major field activity carried out this month in order to recruit victims of corruption and educate the public on the fight against corruption. Posters were pasted and brochures distributed in corruption hotspots like the Yaounde central market and the Mokolo market. 54 brochures were distributed and 35 posters pasted this month in that regard.

Investigations

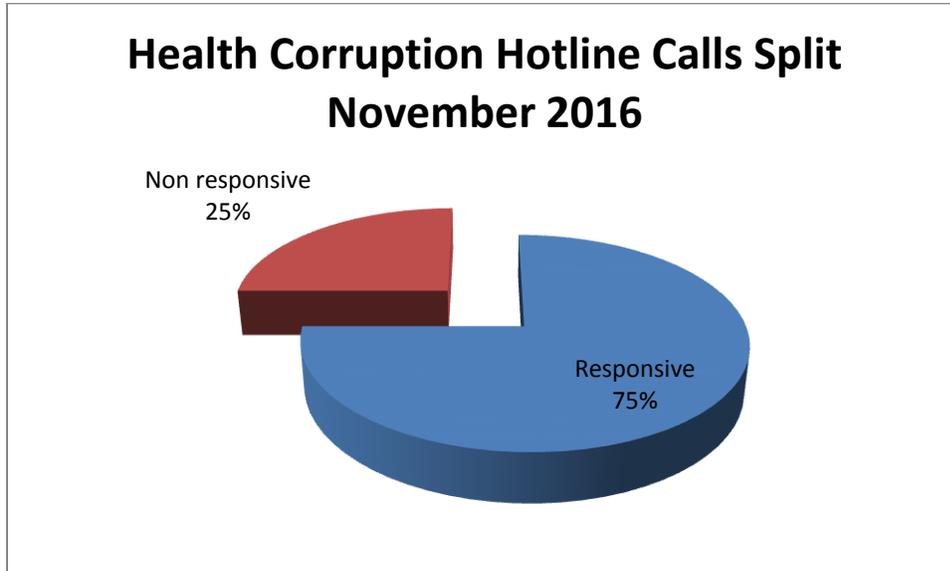

Investigations were carried out on a new case file on extortion opened this month. The complainant reported on extortion by a medical doctor specialized in gastroenterology at the Yaounde central hospital. According to him, he went in for consultation and was referred to Dr Kamdoum, a gastroenterologist practicing with the Yaounde central hospital. After the initial consultation, the doctor told him to meet her at her private clinic for an in-depth follow-up. He initially denied asking the doctor to consult there but the doctor insisted and asked him whether he wanted to get better or not. Feeling trapped, he went to be consulted at the doctor's private clinic. To his greatest dismay, they now claim his test results were missing after he had paid 72,000 FCFA for medical tests and an additional 10,000 FCFA just to retrieve the results. Investigations are ongoing.

Investigations were also carried out on a new case on bribery and corruption opened this month. The victim reported the finance agent of the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Investment (MINADER) treating vote holder's files working in the Nwa sub-division for perpetrating acts of corruption. He complained that the financial year was getting to an end and he had not received credits to run the year because the finance agents solicit bribe before treating their documents. After preliminary investigations, AC noticed that most untreated vote holder's files were due to incomplete information solicited by the finance agent's office that can permit the files to be presented for signing to the divisional officer. AC advised the finance agent and stores accountant to always inform vote holders in case where they notice lack of information.

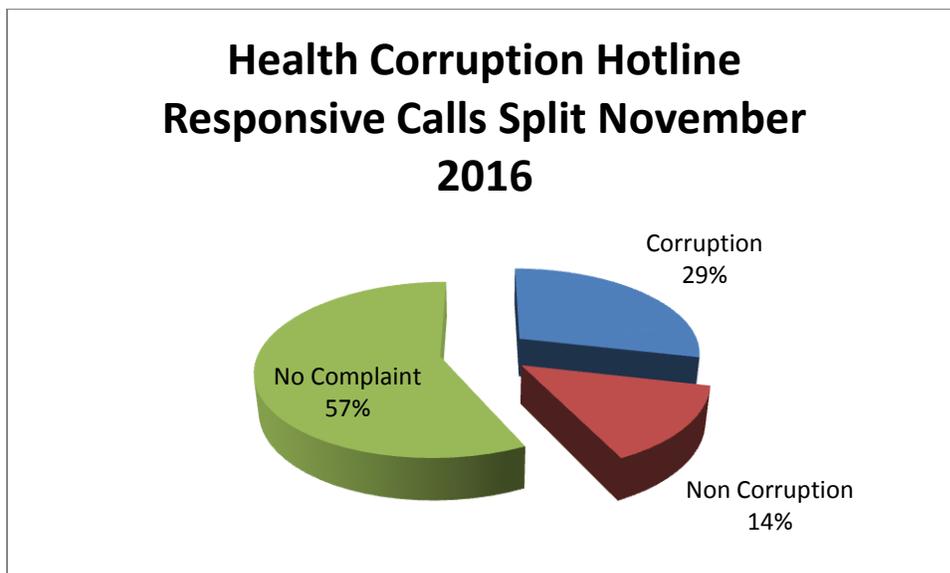

Case follow-up was carried out this month on a bribery corruption case on many counts involving about three hundred victims opened in the month of October 2016. The services of a bailiff was solicited who is presently drawing up three declarations which include a certified report of the site of offense, a report auditioning the victims and a summons summoning the commissioner to restitute the goods seized from victims. This case concerns operators from the informal sector operating in the Mokolo market area who reported the commissioner of police of the 2nd police district in Mokolo for perpetrating acts of corruption, extortion, oppression, torture, false pretense, illegal arrest and unlawful detention.
