

ANTI-CORRUPTION ORGANISATION*October 2017 Report*Highlights

- One new case file was opened this month
- AC hotline received 19 calls this month
- Health Corruption hotline received 11 calls this month

General

In the month of October 2017, the AC hotline phone received 19 calls, five of which were corruption and corruption related offences and two non-corruption complaints.

One new case file was opened this month. The case file involves a case of land fraud where the victim complained of a high official in the government working in complicity with his uncle to matriculate lands belonging to him and his siblings left to them as inheritance by their father. AC has arranged for working sessions between the lawyer and the victim to gather more facts and build a court case but the victim does not show up each time.

Case follow-up continued this month in the corruption case involving many counts with about three hundred victims opened in the month of October 2016. The case file which was at the level of the prosecutor pending calling up the matter in open court hearing, was returned to the examining magistrate of the Court of First Instance without a competent trial court designated by the president of the Court of Appeal as prescribed by legal procedure. The lawyer handling the case is awaiting the submission of the examining magistrate to know the next step to take since procedure has not been respected so far.

AC Hotline Phone

The AC hotline phone registered 19 calls this month of October 2017 with 5 corruption and corruption assimilated offences and 2 non-corruption related complaints. The calls have been analyzed and represented on charts as seen below.

Responsive calls this month represented 95% of calls that came in through the AC hotline phone while 5% of callers' numbers were non-responsive.

53% of calls were no complaint calls which made up the bulk of the calls this month. Corruption complaint represented 34%, while 13% of callers reported complaints not related to corruption.

Regional Representation

The Centre region registered the highest number of callers this month of October representing 64%, followed by the Littoral region and South West regions each having 18% of calls.

Investigations

Investigations were carried out on a land corruption case opened this month. The victim complained of a high official in the government who is working in complicity with his uncle to matriculate parcels of lands left to him and his siblings as inheritance by their father. According to him, the uncle has received some minimal sum of money from the government official as proceeds for the sale of their land and has permitted him to matriculate the lands in the name of the high official. Investigations in the land tenure office where a copy of the land registration documents were obtained with some difficulty was discovered that the high official had claimed parental lineage to the communal land, in Awae where the land is found, a misrepresentation that cannot be overlooked.

AC has arranged two working sessions for the victim and the lawyer that would have resulted in a court case but the victim did not commit. AC considered him not engaged and could not proceed with the case.

Case follow-up continued this month in the corruption case involving many counts with about three hundred victims opened in the month of October 2016. The case file which was at the level of the prosecutor pending calling up the matter in open court hearing, was returned to the examining magistrate of the Court of First Instance without a competent trial court designated by the president of the Court of Appeal as prescribed by legal procedure. The lawyer handling the case is awaiting the submission of the examining magistrate to know the next step to take since procedure has not been respected so far.
